

enSift

Transforming Information
Into Understanding

Position

Senior .NET Developer

Role

enSift is looking for a qualified Sr. .NET developer to work on our Cloud based compliance platform. As part of a fast-growing early stage company you'll be tasked with helping to iterate our successful service platform into more scalable microservice applications.

Responsibilities

- Design and develop highly scalable .NET applications, with a focus on microservices and cloud based platforms
- Participate in architectural discussions to help drive alignment on design and implementation
- Work in a dynamic, agile environment using DevOps processes to quickly build, test and deploy code
- Mentor junior developers and conduct code reviews to adopt and enforce best practices

Qualifications

- 8+ years in a software development role working on scalable, distributed applications
- 5+ years of working with .NET Framework
- 3+ years of working with .NET Core
- Strong understanding of microservice architecture
- Experience working with Cloud platforms such as Azure
- Experience with Microsoft technologies, such as C#, SQL Server, ASP.NET, MVC, Visual Studio, Windows etc

Suite 1320
717 7th Ave SW Calgary, AB

+1 587 605 7438
hello@ensift.com
www.ensift.com

- Strong communication to be able to clearly capture requirements and contribute during discussions across teams
- An appreciation for the need for manual and automated testing
- Experience with Agile and DevOps principles
- Bachelor's Degree in CS or equivalent work experience

About enSift Corp.:

enSift is a purpose driven technology company based in Calgary, Canada that develops environmentally focused compliance management products and services for enterprise customers operating in Canada, US and European jurisdictions. Our core mission is to leverage the latest cloud innovations along with targeted AI and intelligent content curation, to dramatically reduce the cost of regulatory compliance across numerous enterprise verticals. A fast-growing early stage company, enSift is already deployed at over 100,000 sites in Canada alone where we are proving that mindful Environmental Social Governance is not only the right thing to do, its also the most economically sustainable way to operate your business.

enSift is a growing technology company where employees have the opportunity to tackle tasks outside their typical role allowing them to gain experience in all aspects of building a successful new business. We have a strong focus on teamwork and we're looking for people who can work closely with others to get things done.

enSift is an equal opportunity employer who hires based on merit. We have an inclusive culture that embraces diversity.